 J. J.

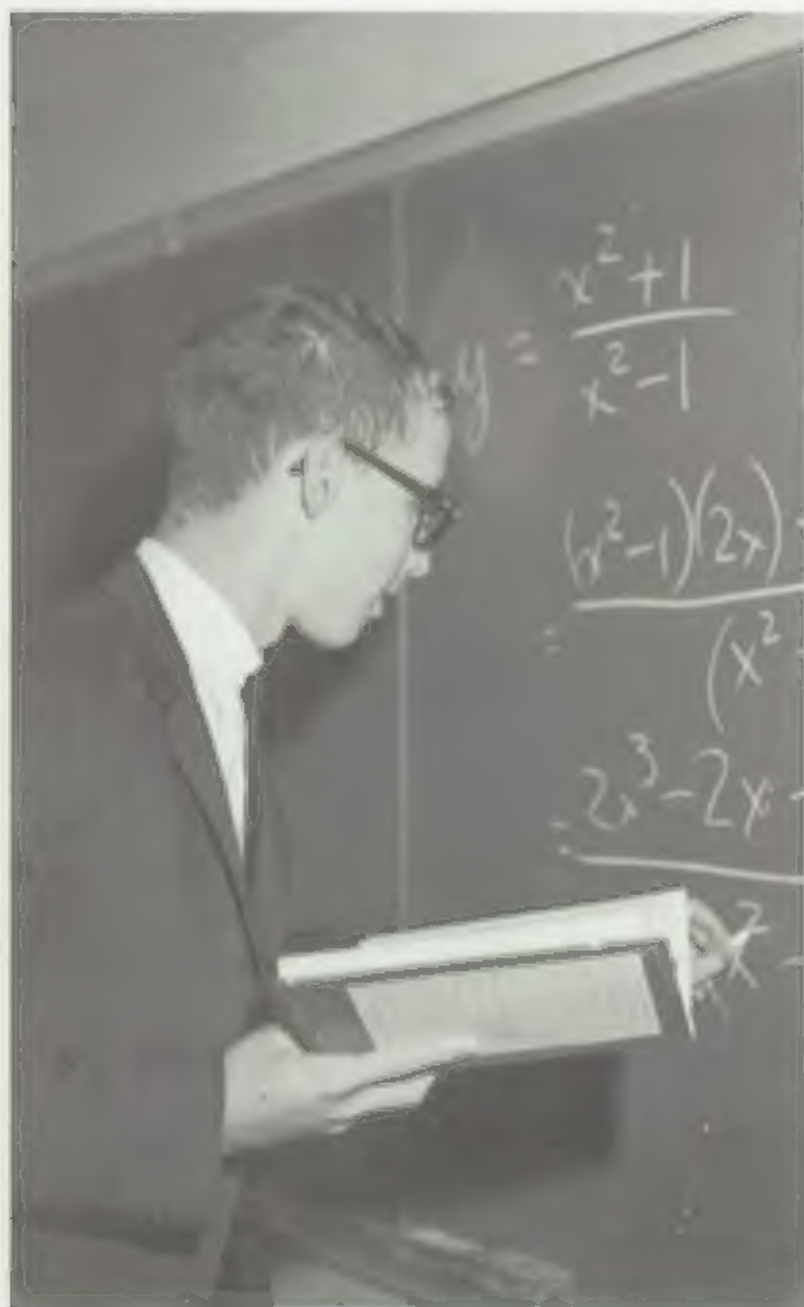

This is Washington, our school, the place we come almost every day, and these are some of the things that make Washington, Washington. These are the places we think of when somebody mentions Washington; these are the things that give Washington character and make it unique.

ACADEMICS

Scholastic excellence is the purpose of any high school and Washington is no exception. Almost any subject is taught, academic and non-academic, fine arts and industrial arts, and, because of this, the library is often crammed with students, studying and researching.

ACTIV

TIES

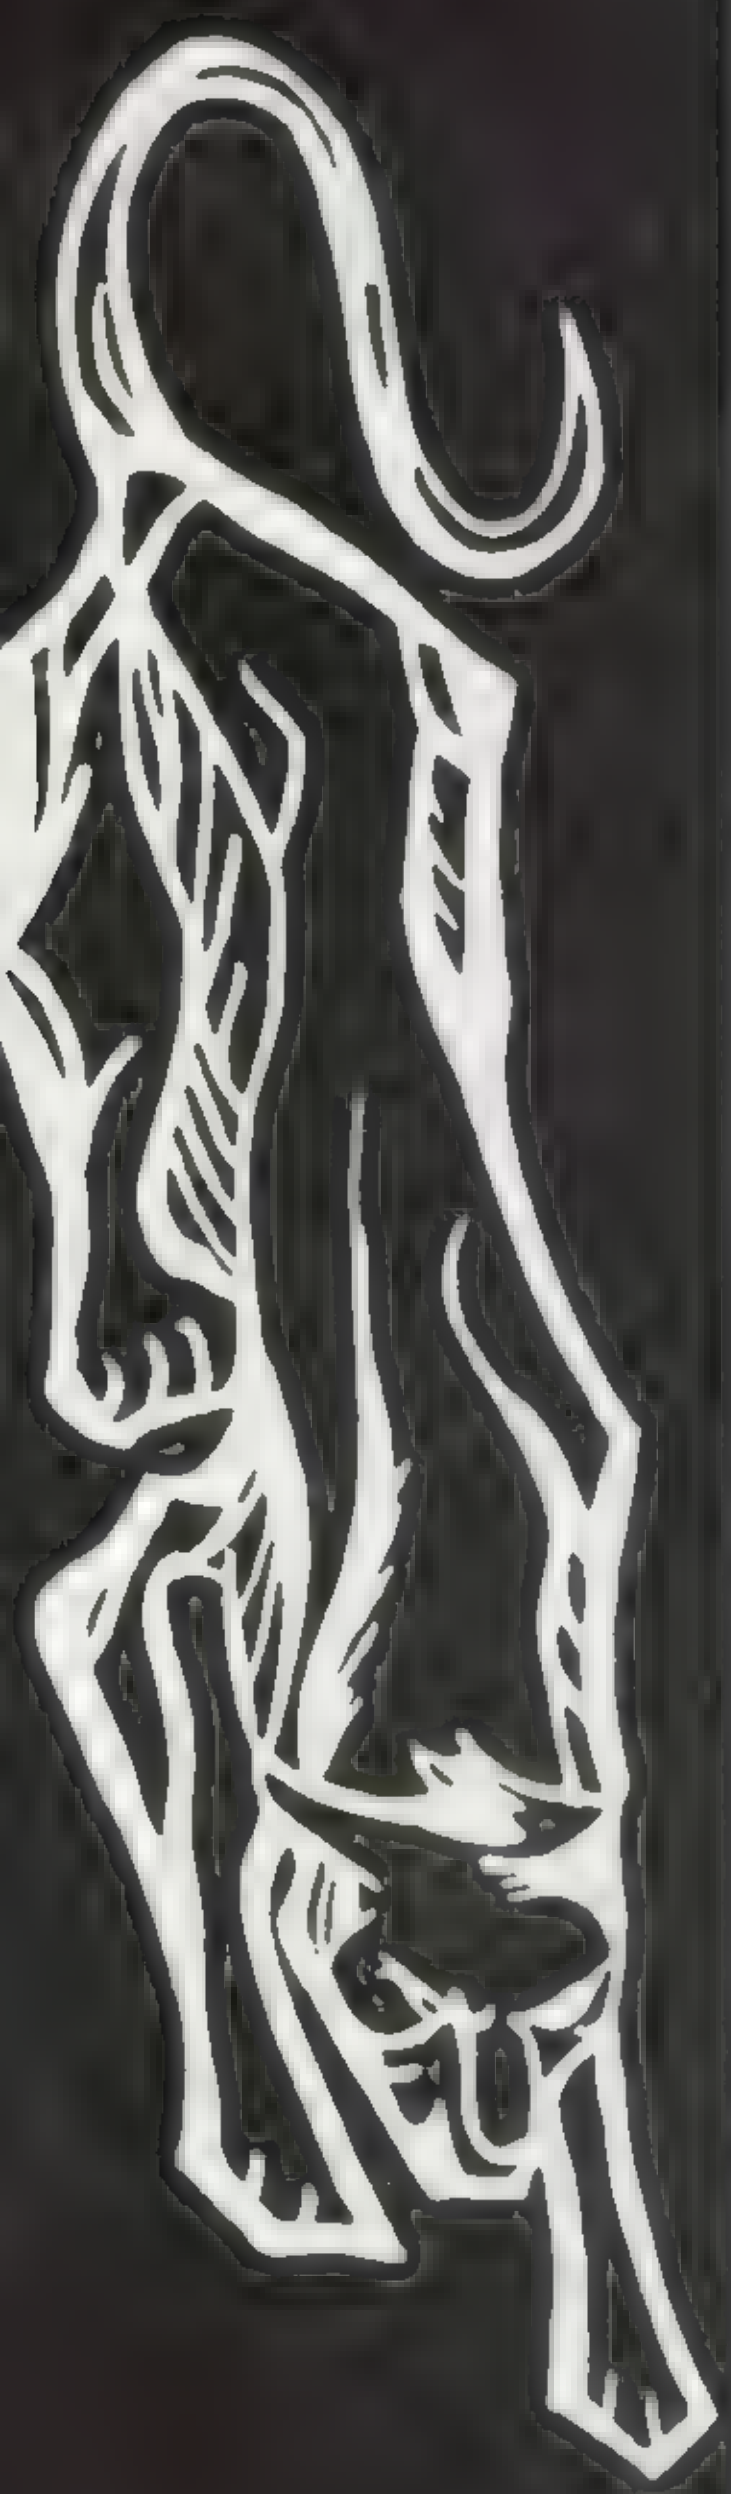

Activities are a very important and vital part of Washington life and constitute a major role in each student's curriculum. For almost every occasion or interest there is a club or organization to serve, and consequently, and indirectly, activities promote scholastic ability, experience, and maturity to the student body, as well as provide good times throughout the four years of Washington.

The year 65-66

THE BEGINNING

This is the beginning, the way the year began, the way high school began for the Frosh, and the way the end began for the Seniors. All types of Washington life were shown off and this opening program offered a cross-section of the coming assemblies and the coming year; the year of 1965-66.

FOOTBALL

Football at Washington has a special meaning, a very special meaning, and here, on these pages, is Panther football in all the aspects, offense and defense, happiness and despair, and everything else that makes the game a very special and meaningful part of Washington life

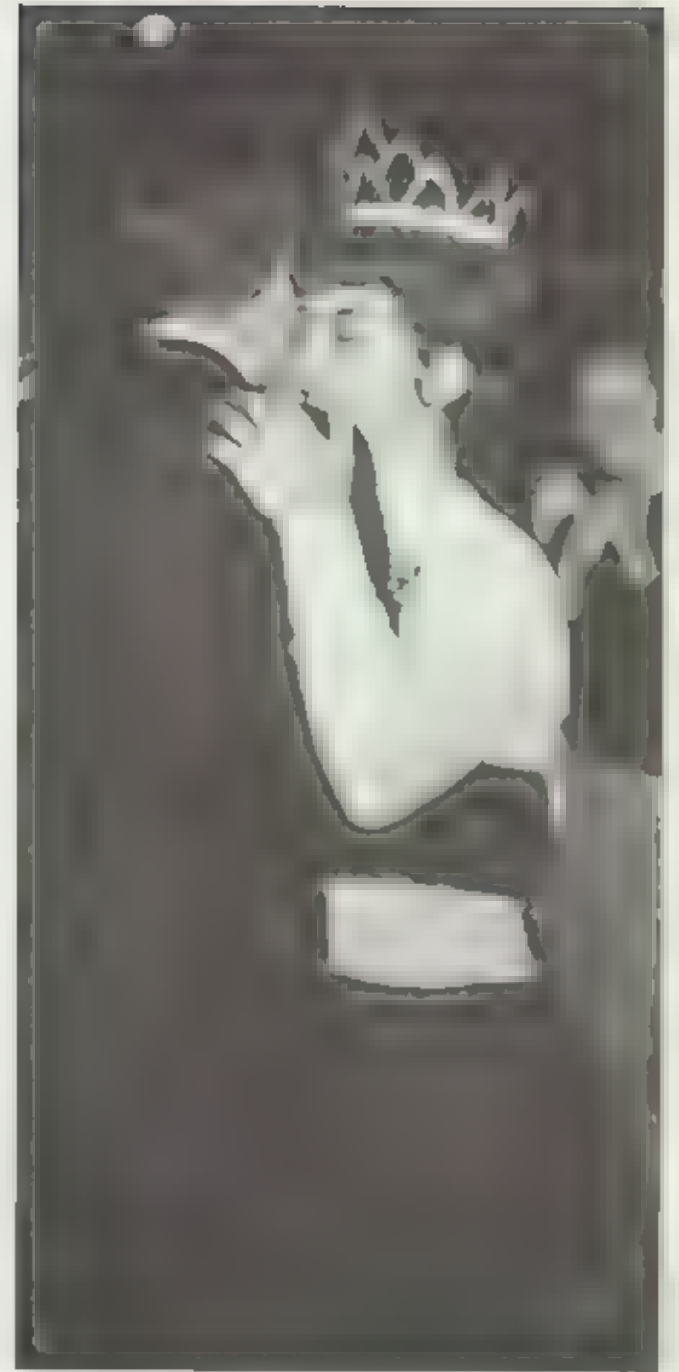

Assemblies, both academic and social, are an important part of Washington life and are planned to once more further the education of the students and inform, help, and prepare them for the responsibilities of future life

MISS MEMORY LANE

Memory Lane Court

Mike Deahutt, Clarence Gantus, Bob Melenda, Nancy Kolavarek, Craig Mankowski, Paula Wed, Ron Thompson, Queen Anne Lesquet, Barbara Brad, Brian Dam-

pier, Mary Carlton, Pat Hilbert, Judy Kapsa, Bob Watts

RILEY H

Nancy Iwaszewski, Dennis Janiszewski, Sharon Kozlewski, George Nicholas, Susan Wronson, Craig Markowski, Janice Gleason, Bob Nemeth, (Queen) Sue Ullery,

OUND-UP

The annual round-up held at Riev this year, ended abruptly with a bomb threat, and the coronation of the football queen had to be postponed until the next day. Then, in the gym, with the football captain doing the honors, Miss Sue Ullery, escorted by Steven Gable, was chosen the fairest of them all and crowned queen of panther football for the year of '65-'66. At the game, according to tradition the two queens exchanged roses, signifying goodwill between the schools

CARNIVAL

Carnival, the beautiful story of young Lili and crippled Paul, was performed to the school by Mr. Toth and The Drama Club. The story took place in a shabby French Carnival and centered around Paul's winning Lili's love through his puppets and songs

The whole effect was an enjoyable night to the audience, a night of excellent acting, fine dancing, and beautiful music, especially Paul's solo of "Her Face" and Lili's singing of the famous song "Love Makes The World Go Round."

BASK

Basketball has recently come into its own at Washington and now ranks only slightly behind football in spirit and enthusiasm. A winning tradition has been started with the winning of the sectional and regional titles, and the Panther is now regarded as a city power. "Hoosier Hysteria", the best basketball in the nation, has engulfed the Washington student body and is there to stay.

BALL

SENIOR CLASS PARTY

With the cafeteria decorated to fit the theme "Autumn in Central Park" the Seniors held their second biggest social event of the year, the class party. The Castaways played, the Juniors served, and Seniors danced and partied; in short, it was a night that will not be soon forgotten.

MISS BASKETBALL

Basketball Court: D. Haluda, B. Snyder, B. Boon, S. Tiedey, G. Zolman, J. Brooks, S. Anderson, B. Brooks, M.

Cole, Oaker, B. Hudson, E. Moura, J. L. Lee, G. Hagen, M. Daner, D. Krawiec, P. Wencowski.

The night of the biggest basketball game, the Central game, saw Miss Ruth Hudson, escorted by Mark Cole, crowned queen of Wastewater basketball. According to tradition, she and her Central counterpart exchanged flowers at the center line.

VALENTINE'S PARTY

Arlene Rzepka, Richard Scherzer, Donna Weselowsky, Bob Gilt

The Seniors celebrated Valentine's Day with a party in the gym with the "Tilli Blues" providing the music. The sweetest couple, Miss Nancy Kobylarek and Robert Molenda, was chosen by ballot and crowned at the party to reign over the night's festivities.

N.H.S. INDUCTION

N.H.S.

For the first time in Washington's history, the N.H.S. held separate senior inductions. A brief history was given and the four qualifications were explained by speakers. The seniors were called and awarded pins by Mr. Thompson, and then the entire society, with the parents of the new members, were invited to a get-together in the library.

FOREIGN EXCH

American Field Service, which sponsors our foreign exchange students, this year sent two students to Washington

Washington students themselves pay for the costs of bringing the students here and housing them with American brothers and sisters

Eduardo Moura, the exchange student from Brazil, was sponsored by the South Bend Rotary Club. During his year at W.H.S. he was active in swimming and senior class activities. We certainly hope Ed enjoyed his visit here, and we know that the school enjoyed having him attend here

GE STUDENTS

Anick Longuet, our foreign exchange student from France stayed with American sister Lynn Harden. Anick, like Eduardo, participated in many senior class and other activities such as Student Council and Glee Club. We will surely miss both Anick and Eduardo, but will remember them for what they contributed to Washington.

WE GAIN

After the parties and games are over, after the year has ended, there are certain qualities acquired over the years that remain, that should, and will endure. These qualities that the Washington student leaves are patriotism, spirit, and a sense of justice.

ADMINISTRATION AND GUIDANCE

MR. KERMIT THOMPSON, OUR PRINCIPAL

THE ADMINISTRATION is the nerve-center of the school, the invisible personage in every classroom and corridor. It is the duty of the front office to keep things running smoothly, to keep order, to meet the different crises, but also to add something to the school and its curriculum, to keep school interesting and important to the student body. This is a difficult job loaded with responsibility, and the new principal, Mr. Kermit Thompson, along with his able assistant, Mr. Edward Pilarski, is to be commended for a great 1965-66.

MR. RONALD HOSINSKI

MR. LEONARD JANOWIAK
Counselor
Ball State University B.S., M.A.

MRS. MARY SULLIVAN
Counselor
University of Wisconsin, Notre Dame
A.B., M.A.

THE GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT is a student's home away from home, and his counselor is his parents, best friend, minister, doctor, lawyer, and psychiatrist all rolled into one. It is the counselor's job to aid his students in any and all matters, to help them make schedules, pass courses, get to meetings and be admitted to college.

This concept of the school psychologist is a new one, but it works and is good, so the counselors will continue to guide the student down the straight, narrow and correct path, all the time improving his character and forming him into a better person for society.

English, our mother tongue, is the basis of all the other subjects taught at Washington and, therefore, must rank as the most important. It is by English that almost everything one learns is taught; it is through English that we communicate.

All aspects are taught—from punctuating sentences to reading Shakespeare to attempting one's own poetry, and from this four-year study the ability to talk well and be understood is hoped to be achieved.

Art is the primary means by which man creates and expresses himself. To build something beautiful and meaningful out of a jar of paint or a mound of clay is the dream of the artist and through art class this dream can be fulfilled. Excellent instruction and facilities enable the student to achieve perfection in any field of art he may choose, from ceramics to painting to sculpturing.

Art is Washington's contribution to making the well-rounded man, offering him an opportunity to not only work with his hands, but also, to tap his imagination and his creative genius. The art department offers an excellent program in all aspects, from the study of the masters and the master pieces to the actual creation of one's own work.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

MRS SANDRA EVANS
Spanish
B A., Ball State University

To speak a foreign tongue is something almost everyone wants to be able to do; and Washington's the place to realize this goal. A choice from five non-English tongues (German, French, Spanish, Russian, and Latin) is offered and the facilities of an ultra-modern language laboratory complete with private booths and tape recorders is in access to all the language classes

Not only does one learn how to speak the language but the country's history, its literature, its people, its customs are also presented to the student to give him a better picture of the language

A language is not required to graduate; it is just one of the many fringes that come with having a good school

Mathematics is often called the second language of America, and rightly so. Math is the means of communication in the technological world of which America is a leader. Math is also a practical course and everyone should have a little knowledge of numbers in order to at least buy groceries or figure an income tax form; for these needs there are definite courses.

For the college-bound student math is a necessity. The college prep course starts with Algebra and Geometry, and Washington's facilities allow him to go all the way to College Calculus.

SCIENCE

MR. PATRICK GULLIFORD

Biology

B.S., M.A., Indiana State University,
Ball State University, Wayne State University, Purdue

Science is the "in" subject as far as the world outside the high school is concerned. Every college or employer looks at your sciences before acknowledging your acceptance, and every man on the street asks the student what grade he got in Chemistry.

To meet these pressures Washington has developed a top-notch Science department with Biology, Chemistry, and Physics labs scattered down two corridors

One year in the sciences is required but the college-bound person is ~~wise~~ to take two or more years

SOCIAL STUDIES

MR. FRANK CLAUS

Geography, Introduction to Social Studies, Journalism

B.S., M.A.T. Northwestern University
University of Chicago, University of Notre Dame

Social Studies is the subject that makes one a citizen; it is the course that prepares one to live in a democracy. Almost from Community Civics in the ninth grade all the way up the ladder to senior Government courses, the responsibilities, duties, and privileges of being a citizen in a democracy are pointed out.

However, a student, is not limited to just American Government courses; he also may delve into the histories and geography. It is in the Social Studies Department that one may return to the beginnings of time or predict the future of the world; live under a democracy, pay homage to a king, or exist in terror under a dictator. Social Studies is the course of the politician and the speaker; and the citizen.

The Business Dept. is probably one of the three most immediately-practical departments in the school. The business courses are so geared that upon graduation a student can easily slip into the business world with a background of Typing, Shorthand, Bookkeeping, Office Management, Business Administration, and Filing, all without leaving the 900-corridor.

With high-quality equipment such as Mimeographing Machines, Duplicators, and Electric Typewriters, the business corridor is an excellent training ground for the office staffs of the future.

B.S. Ball State U.

Located in the distant 400 hall the din of the various shops is lost to the school. This course of study is essential to the good of the economy, for it is from the shops that the skilled, blue collar workers come. They are the men who must run the lathes, repair the cars, and build the furniture for tomorrow's world and they, through the excellent facilities offered, will meet the challenge handily.

The shops at Washington are the wood-shop, machine-shop, auto-shop, and the drafting room, where the future engineers and architects sketch their first bridges and homes.

HOME ECONOMICS

MRS CAROLYN GISEL
Family Living, Clothing
B S , Goshen College

The Home-Ec course is to girls what the shop course is to the boys. It is here that the girl, housewife, and mother of the future learns the fundamentals of how to run a home such as cooking, sewing, and interior decorating. However, information pertaining directly to the high school girl is offered such as how to wear her hair, or the different types of skirts that can be worn with a pink sweater.

This department is very well-equipped and offers some excellent information and advice to the housewives-to-be

B.A., Emory & Henry College

MISS JUDITH DUESTERBERG
Physical Education, Swimming
B.S., Indiana State University

MR. ROBERT MILLION
Health
B.A., Ball State University

This is an important course for three reasons: first it teaches one skills how to master his body how to make his muscles perform the way they should. Second, it keeps one fit and in good health; exercises and a shower every day are excellent ways to either get into, or stay, in condition. Third, it offers a change in the schedule. Books are laid aside, tests are forgotten, and one just relaxes mentally and gives his body a chance at exercise.

There are two forms of physical education and both are open to both boys and girls. These two types are the gymnasium and the natorium. The gym is excellent, producing room for four classes at one time with one class playing basketball, and the other volleyball, a third tennis and the last doing gymnastics on the ropes and parallel bars.

The swimming pool is simply beautiful and is olympic-size, offering three diving boards and a sloping bottom.

As you can see, the physical education department is just as important as the academic, as Washington attempts to give her students a fine well-rounded education.

The Music Department comes in four categories: The Band, The Glee Club, The Orchestra, and Music Appreciation

The Band, in some form or another, is at almost every Washington activity, especially sporting. For games the band marches, for basketball games and pep assemblies the Band entertains with concert selections. The Band's important, for it adds color and that extra something to make the school just a little better

The Glee Club is well represented and entertains the school and the public at its own assemblies, at other assemblies, and at informal hooten-anny's. The Green robe has come to be a common, but respected sight at Washington, and the school is indebted for the name and glory the Glee Club has brought it

The orchestra often teams with the winds from the Band and plays at assemblies, but its main purpose is the Autumn and Spring Drama Productions such as "Carnival" whose music was played so beautifully

Away from the actual making of music are two courses, Harmony and Music Appreciation. It is here that the composers and the great works are studied, and the basic mechanics of music are learned

Music, like all the other Departments at Washington, is excellent, a course the administration can admire and boast of These Student Council members play an active role in the functions of school government. Through the representatives, the student body voices its opinions and ideas.

This year the Student Affairs, Student Social, and Assembly Committees were formed. They have promoted cooperation between the faculty and students.

A Dress Code was passed by this year's Student Council; also, a teacher roster for the front entrance was purchased as a gift to the school.

GIRLS' AND BOYS' STATE REPRESENTATIVES

The purpose of Hoosier Boys' and Girls' State is to educate young men and women in the duties, responsibilities, and privileges of an American citizen. Selected students from all over Indiana meet in the summer at Indiana University. At their respective sessions, they set up their own city, county, and state governments, giving them a realistic way of learning.

Through this practical application, the students are shown the contributions they can make in the different aspects of our government. It is the American Legion Auxiliary that sponsors this rewarding experience for the outstanding young citizens throughout the country.

One of the major service organizations of Washington High School is the Girls' Ushers Club. Only junior and senior girls are eligible for membership, and they are selected on the basis of initiative, poise, responsibility, and character. The activities of the Girls' Ushers Club include ushering at the plays, the Glee Club Christmas Program, and at Commencement Exercises. The girls are always seen checking coats at the home basketball games and the Sectionals.

WASHINGTON'S JUNIOR BUSINESSMEN

Junior Businessmen is an honor position set up between the area high schools and the three main civic clubs of South Bend: Rotary, Lions, and Kiwanis. A different set of three outstanding senior boys is chosen four times during the year to attend the club meetings and luncheons.

At these meetings, the boys are given a chance to meet and talk with businessmen, professionals, and political figures to discuss their opinions and obtain help for selection of their career.

However, this is not all one-sided; the clubs and their members also benefit for they learn the student's point of view, and they may win themselves a future member.

These students represented Washington High School during the 1965-1966 school year. Also, Charles Black, who is not pictured.

The MEMORY LANE is a composite of hard work, much thought, and many hours. The yearbook staff has spent a great deal of time putting together these 200 pages—everything from managing the money and picture-taking to laying out the pages and proof-reading.

This yearbook presents a chronological review of the highlights of the 1965-66 school year, attempting to show a cross-section of the every day happenings here at Washington.

Working on the yearbook has proven to be a most worthwhile experience—even though a little nerve-racking when deadlines had to be met. Each staff member learns the value of working with others and feels pride in the finished product; their reward—the 1966 MEMORY LANE.

Induction into the National Honor Society is the highest award Washington High School can bestow on one of its students. It is an honor recognized throughout America; membership in one chapter is membership in any chapter.

To be eligible, a candidate must either be a junior or a senior, and he must have a "B" average or better. If these standards are met, the person's intangible qualities are examined, and these fall into three categories: Leadership, Service, and Character.

After a student is reviewed and approved, he is inducted at the annual assembly, receives his pin, recites the pledge, and takes his seat among his fellow honor students.

This year's Drama Club has been very active. Their first play of the season was the musical "Carnival," a tremendous hit with a circus setting. The other play was "Teahouse of the August Moon," a comedy dealing with the difficulties of the occupation forces in Okinawa after the second World War trying to set up industries and teaching democracy to the native people.

Both the students who perform on the stage and those who work behind the scenes on props, wardrobe, make-up, curtains, lights, and sets gain valuable experience.

This is the first year that Washington High School's Drama Club has been eligible for membership in the National Thespian Society, an organization of teachers and students devoted to the advancement of dramatic arts in the secondary schools.

FUTURE EDUCATORS

The purpose of the Future Teachers of America Club is to give its members an insight to teaching. This club is guided by all teachers of Washington with Miss Voll as sponsor.

The club's major event, besides a dance, is the annual Teachers' Tea given for the faculty members. This is an opportune occasion where the club members and the faculty meet for enjoyment.

Stemming from the club is the cadet teacher program, which gives the teacher-to-be a chance to discover whether this is the career for him.

Y-teens is an organization closely associated with the Y.W.C.A. It is mainly a service club. Although several social functions are carried out, such as the annual Mr. Football, candy sale, fashion show and dances, this year the Y-teens' main service project was working with children at the Christian Service Center, a very rewarding experience

PANTHERS ROAR TO 6—3

Head Coach Tom Roggeman

Washington football is the best in the state, and again the Panthers proved it. With a nucleus of only 6 lettermen for Coach Roggeman to work with, the gridgers compiled another winning 6—3 season.

This year's team fought an uphill battle, but came up with upset victories over high-ranking Elkhart, LaPorte, and South Bend St. Joseph. Each of these victories was won by the narrowest of margins. A pass with one second left in the game beat Elkhart, 6—0. The Panthers also ground out a TD in the final seconds of the first half to defeat LaPorte, 7—0. The perennially outstanding Washington defense held St. Joseph in the final minute of the game for a victory.

Both our B-Team and Freshman teams, the future varsity players, finished with fine records, at 5—3—1 and 6—1—2 respectively.

CAGERS CONTINUE TRADITION

Assistant Coach—Joe Lawecki
Head Coach—Subby Nowicki

Washington carries on with "never say die" tradition, and this year's Panther basketball team proved it to be true.

Only one varsity member returned from the senior-dominated regional champion team of last year, but this fact did not stifle the players. Seniors Charles Black, Fred Ziolkowski, Earl Hairston, and sophomore Ray Lindsey, all up from the B-Team, along with Bill Kirk, a non-player last season, played excellent ball. Led by returning letterman "Red" McElhaney, the Panthers compiled a laudable 15-8 record. Included in this record were victories over fine Elkhart, Adams, and Calumet teams.

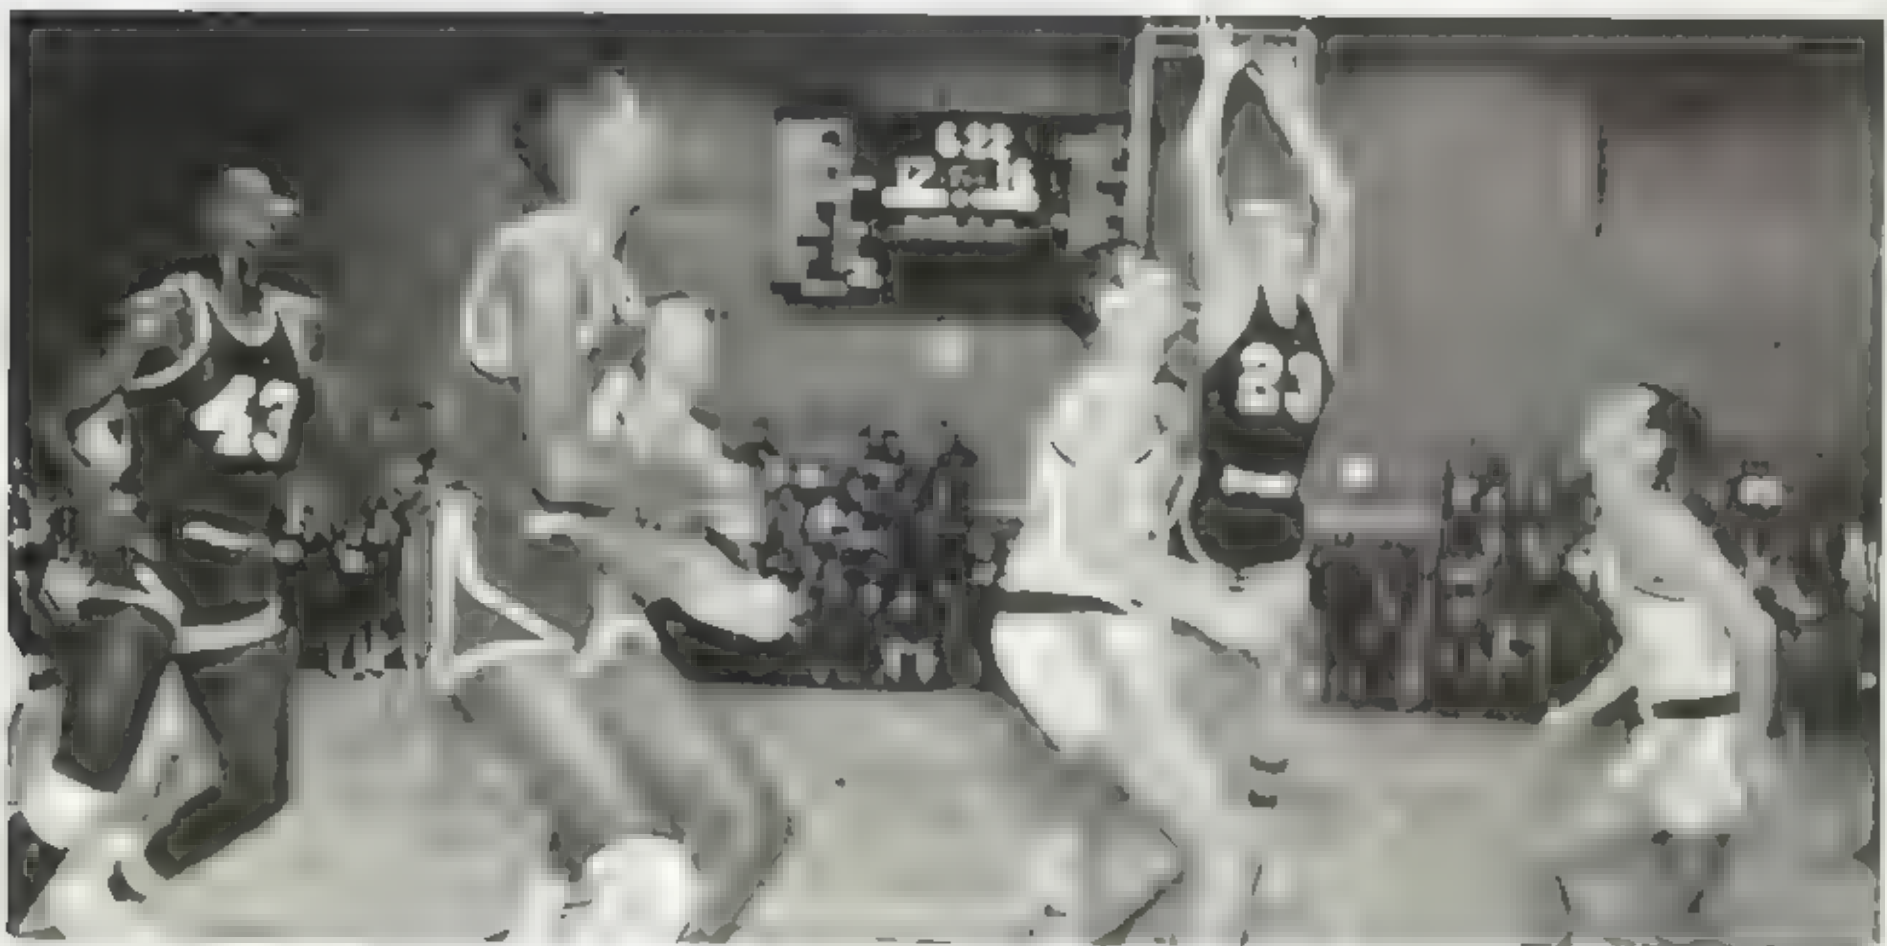

Although the Panthers lost to the No. 1 ranked Central club in the sectional finals, they certainly carried on with Washington spirit and tradition, and earned the pride of the school.

TANKERS SPLASH

Jim Basil challenges captain Greg Sutton to the 100 yard free style

In recent years, the swimming team at W.H.S. has come into its own. Again this year the tankers, under the excellent coaching of Mr. Dave Sexton, splashed to a winning season, compiling a 11—6 record. Led by a strong core of senior swimmers, the team set new records in three individual events and one relay.

Those returning next year as a nucleus for Coach Sexton's team include letter winners Ron Hamilton, Drew Villegan, and Dale O'Chap.

Completing their final year of swimming are Jim Basil, a record holder in five events, Greg Sutton, holder of two records, Dave Martinez, who holds three records, and also Dave Miller, Eduardo Moura, Ron Compton, Gary Zolman, and Tom Emerick. These seniors will be difficult to replace next year.

Golf Prospects

NEW SPORT TEES

Coach Gene Dziubinski

Last year golf was established as a new varsity sport at Washington. Although the novices found the going rough last year, the outlook for this year's season is much better.

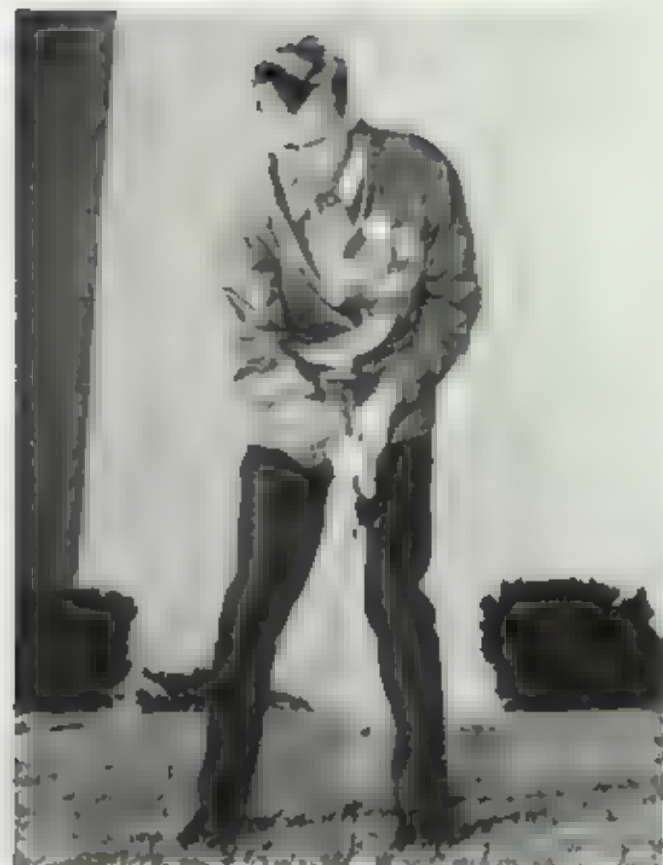

All five varsity golfers are returning this year. Lettermen on this year's squad include Jim McElhaney, Paul Borowski, Chris Gardner, Walt Kroll and Mike Carroll. Hopeful golfers include Ron Czajkowski, and Ken Stankiewicz.

With a bit of luck, Coach Eugene Dziubinski's golfers should compile a winning record to carry on the Washington tradition.

IN MEMORIAM

PATTI MAYLE

FRANK MORRIS

JACK MURPHY

Though they fell by the wayside,
As we sought our separate ways,
In our hearts their memories linger,
Enshrined forever they remain.

To use all the facilities

To participate honorably in the civic life of our nation:

Never to discriminate against any man because of his race, religion or creed and to oppose all who do so:

To honor and defend my country

of all human kind.

This I pledge to you.

may keep marching

An underclassmen gets friendly assistance

A lot of hours and hard work have gone into this book and at first it would have been impossible to have put it together, so I wish to acknowledge those who have given so much of their time and effort to create this, the 1966 Memory Lane.

These are the people:

Mrs. June Dimich—Sponsor
Mr. Kermit Thompson—Principal
Mr. R. F. Patnaude—Photographer
Jim Hicks—Photographer
Allan Walsh—Photographer
Ray Lowman—Cover Design
Colin Pence—Managing Editor
Pat Wojnarski—Faculty Editor
Janice Gleason—Club Editors
Diana Johnson
Jerry Lukavich—Sports Editors
Ken Zakrzewski
Barb Kolvas—Senior Editors
Dianne Fletcher
Sharon Kozlowski—Underclass Editors
Jeanine Brooks
Bill Sechowski—Activities Editor
Barb Kadzielski—Business Managers
Janet Pollins

Also, I wish to thank the numerous people who so willingly gave of their efforts as proofreaders, typists, and representatives.

Again, thank you all for making this book possible.

Steven Gable
Editor-in-Chief

Ann Marie

Some of the smartest and sweetest I have known.
Always remember me to your home from best of luck in whatever you do

Love, Lawrence

Ann Marie

It is my wish to be with you personally & that wish that we could move you together.
Best of luck.
Bob Peterson

- Ann Marie -

To a really great girl with a personality to match. Always remember the fun we had on the Senior class trip. (Who can forget?) Stay the way you are now and you'll go a long, long way!

- Always -

- Ann -
To one of the sweetest girls
I know! Never forget all the fun we've had especially on the Senior trip.
Never forget Bill
& all the fun we had with him! Always keep that cute
smile & I know you'll keep those guys guessing!

Just me
